

LOOKING AFTER MYSELF

First Edition 1979

Printed in the People's Republic of China

Oh, what fun
To race with the sun!
When I'm out of bed,
The sun's not out yet.

Little kitten, don't run away.
See what I'm going to wear today.
I put on my socks and shoes so bright.
Do you think I look all right?

I always make the bed myself
And never need my mummy's help.
I spread my bedsheet nice and flat
And give my pillow a little pat.

I brush my teeth and wash my face,
Then put my bowl and mug in place.

Then I go and comb my hair
And tie a big red ribbon there.
When I smile in the mirror, I see
Another face smiling back at me.

To make my porridge nice and hot,
I warm it in a great big pot.
I will finish eating soon,
Then I'll wash my bowl and spoon.

With my toys I take great care
Not to leave them here and there.
If a toy gets broken in two,
I stitch it up or mend it with glue.

I get some soap and water and rub
My hankies and socks in a big wash-tub.
When they're clean, I hang them high
Upon a bamboo pole to dry.

Then I go and sweep the room
With a dustpan and a broom.
I dust and clean as well as I can,
So that everything's spick and span.

Then out into the garden I go
To water the flowers and see them grow.
When all is done, I sing to myself:
"How nice it is to look after myself!"
